Congratulations Class of '98. As you pass through this gate in your life's journey, I wish you well. Take advantage of opportunities that will broaden your background; make decisions that support your ambitions; help others whenever there's a chance; and don't forget to laugh along the way! You will be responsible for creating the success of the future and for overcoming the obstacles that may be in the way.

Good Luck. May God bless you all.

Seniors

We are the children of the Eighties. We are not the first "lost generation" nor today's lost generation; in fact, we think we know just where we stand - or are discovering it as we speak. We are the ones who played with Lego Building Blocks when they were just building blocks and gave Malibu Barbie crewcuts with safety scissors that never really cut. We collected Garbage Pail Kids and Cabbage Patch Keds and My Little Ponies and Hot Wheels and He-Man action figures and thought She-Ra looked just a little bit like I would when I was a woman.

Big Wheels and bicycles with streamers were the way to go; and sidewalk chalk was all you needed to build a city. Imagination was the key. It made the Ewok Treehouse big enough for you to be Luke and the kitchen table and an old sheet dark enough to be a tent in the forest. Your world was the backyard, and it was all that you needed. With your pink portable tape player, Debbie Gibson sang back up and everyone wanted a skirt like the Material Girl and a glove like Michael Jackson's.

Today, we are the ones who sing along with Bruce Springsteen and The Bangles perfectly and have no idea why.

We recite lines with the Ghostbusters and still look to the The Goonies for a great adventure. We flip through T.V. stations and stop at The A Team and Knight Rider and Fame and laugh with The Cosby Show and Family Ties and Punky Brewster and what you talkin' bout Willis?

We hold strong affections for The Muppets and The Gummy Bears and why did they take the Smurfs off the air? After school specials were only about cigarettes and step-families, the Pokka Dot Door was nothing like Barney, and aren't the Power Rangers just Voltron reincarnated?

We are the ones who still read Nancy Drew and the Hardy Boys, the Bobbsey Twins, Beverly Clearly and Judy Blume, Richard Scary and the Electric Company. Friendship bracelets were ties you couldn't break and friendship pins went on shoes - preferably hightop Velcro Reeboks - and pegged jeans were in, as were Units belts and layered socks and jean jackets,charm necklaces and side pony tails and just tails. Rave was a girl's best friend; braces with colored rubberbands made you cool. The backdoor was always open and Mom served only red Kool-Aid to the neighborhood kids - never drank New Coke. Entertainment was cheap and lasted for hours. All you needed to be a princess was high heels and an apron; the Sit'n'Spin always made you dizzy but never made you stop; Pogoballs were dangerous weapons and Chinese Jump Ropes never failed to trip someone. In your Underoos you were Wonder Woman or Spider Man or R2D2 and in your treehouse you were king.

Star Wars was not only a movie. Did you ever play in a bomb shelter? Did you see the Challenger explode or feed the homeless man? We forgot Vietnam and watched Tiananman's Square on CNN and bought pieces of the Berlin Wall at the store. AIDS was not the number one killer in the United States.

We didn't start the fire, Billy Joel. In the Eighties, we redefined the American Dream, and those years defined us. We are the generation in between strife and facing strife and not turning our backs. The Eighties may have made us idealistic, but it's that idealism that will push us and be passed on to our children - the first children of the twenty-first century. Never forget - We are the children of the Eighties.

Dear Class of 1998,

We can not believe how quickly these past four years have gone by. Freshman year we started off under the leadership of President Andrea Hurwitz, Vice President Carrie Hurwitz, Secretary Lee Lubarsky, and Treasurer Jason Polonsky. Our class spirit grew and so did our treasury. Sophomore year brought in a new crew that has stuck together ever since. Co-Presidents Andrea Hurwitz and Adam Feldberg, Secretary Serena Wong, and Treasurer Marcy Salt have worked hard, and we have many messages for you, our fellow classmates.

First of all, we owe an immeasurable amount of gratitude to our Class Advisor, Mr. Hallinan. He has gone beyond the limits of what is required of him, and his kind heart has made him a friend to us all. We would also like to thank every Class of 1998 member and faculty members who have helped in any way to make this class as strong spirited as it is today Without every helping hand along the way, we would not have attained such success.

So what is our advice to you? We want to remind you how important it is that you maintai your own identity. The relationships you build through your life should be based on the perso you truly are. Never be ashamed of your ethnicity and religion. Don't ever let someone who does not even know you poke fun at your ancestry. Leave Peabody Veterans Memorial High School proud of who you are, where you come from, and where you are headed. Make the mos of your days. Every moment of every day counts. Never regret that you did not make the time for someone or something.

The most important thing we know you should strive for is happiness. As we approach th year 2000, realize we will soon have postions of power in the world. This will be our chance to voice our opinions and make positive changes.

It is so sad to move on from high school, but we are confident that we are ready to continue down life's highway. Fasten your seatbelts and lock your doors because life is not going to be easy. You may encounter detours and hardships, but everything will happen for a reason. We have faith that each of us will lead the life we desire and deserve through hard wor and mental toughness.

The four of us hope you are pleased with what our class has developed into, and we are extremely proud of our class' accomplishments and success. We could not have come so far without each other. So, "thank you" to everyone. We wish you the best of luck and ultimate happiness. Here is a helpful hint: When it is time to say goodbye to your classmates don't say "Goodbye," say, "See you in five years!"

Best of luck always,

Andrea Hurwitz - Co-President
Adam Feldberg - Co-President
Serena Wong - Secretary
Marcy Salt - Treasurer

Class History

When the clock struck midnight on New Year's Eve, I knew that a new year wa commencing, but the year 1998 meant more than just 365 new days, four beautiful seasons, new top-forty hits, new resolutions and happiness. I could not believe 199 had finally arrived. The realization that I would soon be a Peabody High alumnus can only be described by one word - weird.

Thinking back on the past four years fills my mind with a whirlwind of class social events, class elections, the strengthening treasury, the intense planning, the night meetings, the lunch meetings, and so much more concerning us, the class of '98. My mind is filled to the brim with all of our happy memories. What can match the feeling of a snow day?...the end of a long school day?...a test grade you wanted t hang on the refigerator?...a night with no homework?...a substitute teacher?...the chance to look glamorous at the semis and proms with your mouth hanging open in awe at classmates you could barely recognize? We definitely had our share of social events. Who remembers the "Fall Fling" and "Spring Fling?"...all of those pep rallie ...the fact that we have witnessed "the best years of our lives" together?...the day yo got your license?...when you found food in the cafeteria that you liked?...when we had lounge and breakfast?...when homeroom was extended?...half-days?...when yo sent out a college application?...when you received acceptance letters?...when someone told you he/she cared?...the Halloween Party? (Congrats to the first prize) ...when you got measured for your cap and gown?...when your class dues were all paid?...when you wore those horrendous goggles in lab that left bright red marks on your nose?...the thought of the end of your teenage years?

Of course, there must be negative memories in my mind to keep me in touch wit reality. The issue we can not omit is the air quality - the "fumes." Some of us have been directly affected; the fortunate ones have not noticed it. Yes, the fumes should be extinct soon, but remember seeing our school on the news? Remember when we did not have school because of the unidentified fumes? The hate graffiti of 1997 can not be forgotten. United, we wore our blue ribbons. We learned to accept and treasure the diversity in our school and community, and hopefully, we will carry this knowledge with us as we move throughout the world.

We began high school as frightened freshmen. Even if we had some ability to follow directions and get where we needed quickly, we were officially lost. Some of us, and I don't exclude myself, still go down stairwells that lead to "no man's land". Some of us thought we would never find our way around, and look at us now!

Tardiness evolved as we grew older, but that wasn't because we were lost (at least st of the time). I will never forget my own franticness, "Okay, blue is A-house, red -house, orange is C-house..."

We have seen a lot of teachers come and go; we have witnessed a change in our perintendent and principal, and maybe, we have witnessed a change in ourselves.
grew taller and experienced other physical changes, but think on a deeper level.
ybe you learned responsibility, time management, social skills, or just the power peak your mind freely. It is crucial to reflect on the past four years to see have changed for the better. We each have memories of classroom or related ivities that we will never forget. I will never forget how intimidating seniors appeared to be when I was a freshman. They seemed to plow through the ls on an intense mission. I guess that is us now; the cycle continues. I hope you look back on your past four years at PVMHS with satisfaction. These days and ones yet to come will mold you into the unique person you are destined to be.
class of 1998's spirit has been unbelievable since our freshman year. This sense school pride is a major reason why we have been such a successful class. The class 1998 should go down in history for the great times we have shared, the wonderful ndships we have formed, and the school pride we have demonstrated. A quote und in Chicken Soup for the Teenage Soul from an unknown source seems an propriate conclusion: "Enjoy yourself. These are the good old days you're going miss in the years ahead."

Girls Basketball

The Peabody Tanners finished their season with a 11-11 record. The team was led by senior tri-captains Holly Soper, Tisha Driscoll, and Gina Macchi. They also received help from juniors Mindy Conville, Lindsey Dulkis, Katy Bishop, and Katie Welch. Along with these four, the team will be returning with Christine Metcalf, Bridget Driscoll, Caitlin Leonard, and Jenelle Bachman. One of the highlights of the season was when the Tanners made the state tournament for the twentieth consecutive season. The Tanners were the only winter sports team to go into post season play. Players that were called up for the tournament were Christina Gandolfo, Katie Butler, Melissa Ventresca, and Meghan Soper. Tri-captain Holly Soper and juniors Mindy Conville and Lindsey Dulkis all earned G.B.L. All Star recognition.

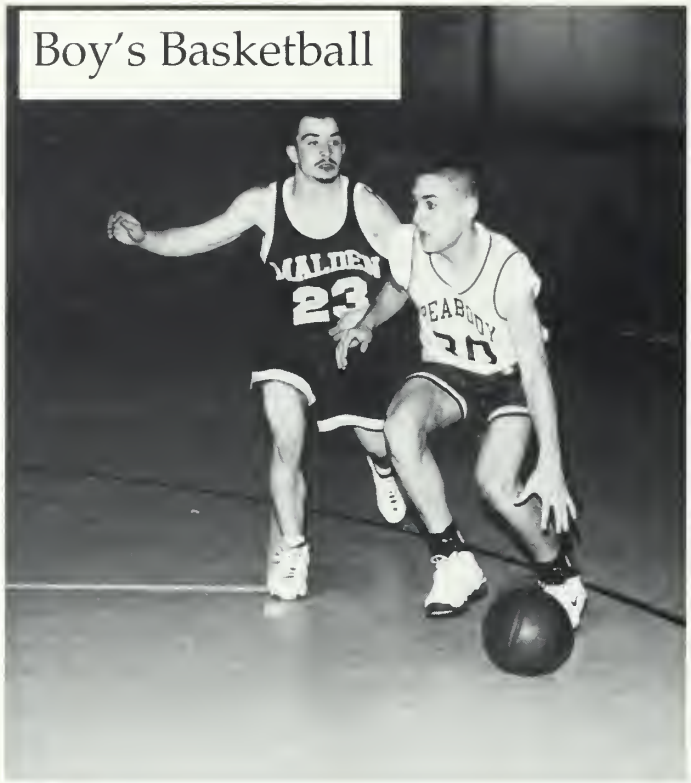
Boy's Basketball



The Tanners did not expect to go 20-0 this season especially after the changes made in the off-season. Instead the Tanners went 3-17 under the instruction of rookie head coach, Chris Mastrangelo. After starting the season 0-9, the Tanners, under the leadership of the tri-captains, Peter Apostolides, Chris Sakelakos, and Eric Yutzy, finally proved their ability with a convincing win over Malden, 77-62. The Tanners then went on a five game skid before pulling off the biggest upset in the G.B.L. They beat Everett (third in the league), on the road, 79-68. In that game, junior Peter Soteropolous set a school record with seven three pointers. Two weeks later the Tanners again upset a highly rated team. In the opening round of the North Shore Invitational, they beat Beverly 67-60 at Beverly in front of a crowd of 2000. With juniors Mat Cahill (leading rebounder) and Peter Soteropolous (high scorer), the Tanners hope to make a run at next year's tournament. They will be assisted by the hustle of juniors Jay D'entremont, Joe Ventura, Derek Pedrosa, and Jimmy Espinal along with sophomores Anthony Gallo and Jose Tejada.
